

POPULISTS DON'T AGREE ON METHODS

CHAIRMAN BUTLER MAKES A CONCILIATORY SPEECH.

Dispatch From Henry M. Teller Demands a Full Vote for Human Liberty—Silverites Have a Convention in Progress Alongside the Pops.

St. Louis, Mo., July 22.—The populist convention was called to order at 12:33. At 12, the hour set, there were not over seventy in their seats, and the visitors' gallery was entirely vacant.

The convention was called to order by Chairman Taubeneck of the national committee. In the silver convention, which also met at 12, Senator Peffer, Senator Allen, Ignatius Donnelly, Cyclone Davis, Col. Weaver and Gov. Stone were on the platform. Congressman Newland of Nevada, was the first to address the convention. He advocated Bryan, and said: "We must accept the brilliant leader of democracy and march with him to victory." Ignatius Donnelly was introduced to respond to Gov. Stone's address of welcome.

Senator Butler, of North Carolina, was presented as temporary chairman of the populist convention and given three cheers. He read a telegram from Senator Teller, saying, "A vote for Bryan and Sewall is a vote for the monetary independence of America." [Great cheering mingled with shouts of "and we'll take the middle of the road."]

The selection of committees for permanent organization was made at 2:27 p. m. and motion was made to adjourn till 8 p. m. Much opposition to the adjournment was manifested. Several delegates spoke against it and confusion prevailed. At 2:30 the convention adjourned until 4:30 p. m. The real fight is convinced that nothing can prevent the Ohio man's defeat.

Probably the most sensational report that has gained currency here is to the effect that Bryan had consented to the scheme of the election of a populist vice president in case he receives the endorsement of the convention. Senator Jones and Secretary Walsh of the democratic national committee say that this bit of gossip is entirely without foundation and ridiculous. Arrivals from Lincoln, to which place there are not a few pilgrimages these days, report that Mr. Bryan still refuses to make any pledges or concessions for populist support. He tells all he is not indifferent to the endorsement of the populist convention, but he believes he will be elected whether made the express object of the regard of the convention or not, and adds that, as he was nominated by the democrats without making any pledges or promises in the way of appointments, he cannot and will not make any pledges to secure nominations or even to secure the election, but that populists as well as others must rely upon him to treat them fairly in case of his success at the polls.

The sacrifice of Sewall, which was talked about yesterday only in the dark places, is being openly discussed in the populist conferences. They claim that he is a capitalist and must be defeated.

If the populist leaders can control the convention, William J. Bryan will secure the nomination, and the platform will contain a provision for a pro-rata division of the state electors.

The politicians who are in the "middle-of-the-road" movement are making greater claims than before, when they declared that they would control the convention by a bare majority. Now they insist that 300 delegates, vote with them on the proposition of turning down the democratic nominee for president. About the hotels and meeting places, however, it can be easily seen that the prevailing sentiment is for Bryan. The "middle-of-the-road" men have united on no candidate. They have half a dozen persons in mind, but each, with the possible exception of Eugene V. Debs, has about the same strength. The Bryan men are going to prevent any caucusing, if possible, after to-morrow's session of the convention. They say that, while they are positive of their ground, they do not intend to allow the "middle-of-the-road" men to get the advantage of them by any sharp political practices.

The Bryan men have as yet not given out their strength. They have been claiming all along that they did not wish the "middle of the road" men to know where their votes were coming from. The following estimate was given yesterday as the known strength of Mr. Bryan in the people's party convention; all states and territories not given are said to be either doubtful, not heard from or against Bryan. This estimate is as follows: Alabama, 50; Arkansas, 8; Colorado, 45; Illinois, 35; Iowa, 29; Maine, 9; Missouri, 19; Nebraska, 5; North Dakota, 12; Oregon, 17; Tennessee, 25; Washington, 14; Oklahoma, 9; New Mexico, 4; Arizona, 3; California, 20; Idaho, 7; Indiana, 20; Kansas, 92; Maryland, 9; Montana, 11; Nevada, 7; Ohio, 45; Pennsylvania, 38; West Virginia, 8; Virginia, 40; Wyoming, 7; District of Columbia, 4; Utah, 5.

This makes a total of 641 votes which the Bryan men claim to have secured nailed down for the Nebraska orator. Cyclone Davis claims that he has 313 votes more than a majority for the maine, 9; Missouri, 19; Mississippi, 15; New York, 44; New Hampshire, 4; North Carolina, 95; Oregon, 8; Texas, 95; West Virginia, 8; Wisconsin, 25; Minnesota, 53.

The total votes in this poll are not all which were accounted for as the "middle of the road" votes, but are all that those who attended the meeting would give out. It is claimed, however, that there are 450 more votes, or 1,001 votes in all, against nominating or endorsing Bryan and Sewall. The "middle of the road" men claim that these 1,001 votes are not against Bryan as Bryan, but are in favor of a straight populist ticket and platform and a pro-rata division of electors.

Eugene V. Debs' presidential boom has taken material shape in the form of buttons and badges of the man whose pictures became so familiar during the great railroad strike. His lieutenants still insist that he is not a candidate, but they tacitly encourage the displays being made by the railway union men's friends. Henry D. Lloyd came to St. Louis yesterday. Mr. Lloyd is opposed to the nomination or the endorsement of Bryan. He says it means the death of the people's party. Instead, he said he would have the convention even go farther in the platform than in the Omaha resolutions. He would make the declaration on every plank more radical, and name two well-known people's party men to urge on the victory for populism. Senator Pettigrew is in the city, and Congressman Charles Towne of Minnesota, who left the republicans with the national convention bolt, is also here. There is some talk of nominating Senator Pettigrew, but he is working with the Bryan people, and says he does not want to endanger the cause of silver.

It seems almost certain that Bryan and Sewall will not receive a nomination or an out and out endorsement. It also appears certain that the convention will not endorse Sewall, even if it does pay that compliment to the head of the democratic national ticket. It is generally conceded, however, that the convention will so arrange, even in the event of its nominating its own candidates, that what national electors it has in the electoral college will be opposed to Mr. McKinley and friendly to Bryan.

St. Louis, Mo., July 22.—At the meeting of the representatives of the National Reform Press association, which claims to have 1,300 papers in the country, the "middle of the road" men had a large majority and adopted a strong resolution in favor of preserving their organization and keeping in the middle of the road. The resolutions were in part as follows:

"We declare that the one central thought of all true populists should be the maintenance of the unity of the party and the continuance of its integrity as an organization. There should be no division in the party's councils, and we believe that honest deliberation in an attempt to solve the seeming difficulties which confront us will be productive of a brotherly feeling and harmony which has heretofore characterized our gatherings. As we are the party of progress and have already educated a majority of the people up to the acceptance of a portion of our fundamental principles, we feel that we should keep before the people those principles we believe are vitally essential to the common welfare and that the people's party should continue along the same line of thought and work.

"Above all, we declare that this national convention is not a democratic or republican ratification meeting. We close giving expression of the belief that when the honest men, who have made so many sacrifices for the people's party, animated by no other motives than to advance the brotherhood of mankind, shall ask the Giver of all Good to lead them to know the right that then, when a man listens to the dictates of his conscience, he can stand against the world, for he knows that his acts will be in harmony with right and truth. God save the republic."

St. Louis, Mo., July 22.—The "middle of the road" men were in session caucusing upon the subject of temporary organization when they received the news that the national committee, by an almost unanimous vote, had selected Senator Marion Butler for temporary chairman. It was claimed he was a Bryan man and unsatisfactory to the "middle of the road" faction. Accordingly, a committee was appointed to wait on him. Senator Butler told the committee the populists must adopt a platform and tender the nomination to Bryan, and nominate a candidate for vice-president. The report was received with jeers. The "middle of the road" delegates were about to select O. D. Jones, of Missouri, for temporary chairman, when it was stated that he was not a delegate, and the national committee would not allow him to be voted for on that ground. An effort was then made to select Burkett, of Mississippi, but it was decided to let the matter go over until the morning. The "middle of the road" men still assert that they will vote for some other candidate than Butler, but are not sure who it will be. Some of their leaders said that Butler would be elected because the opposition is not organized.

Anti-Bryan Men Dislike the Choice for Temporary Chairman.

CALL TO BE ISSUED BY GOLD DEMOCRATS

SOUND MONEY CONFERENCE ARRANGED FOR.

Representatives of Anti-Silver Democracy of Ten States To Meet at Chicago To Father a National Movement Against Bryan—Less Talk of a Separate Ticket.

Chicago, July 22.—Representatives of the gold democracy in ten middle western states will meet at the Auditorium tomorrow evening. They are expected to decide to father and issue the call for a national convention to be held in this city not later than Sept. 1. This for the purpose of adopting a platform and nominating a ticket to accomplish the defeat of Bryan, Sewall and free silver. The organization for the conference has been effected, and the following states will be represented: Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Kentucky, Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska and Minnesota.

The suggestion for the conference came from W. D. Bynum, John P. Frenze and Samuel O. Pickens of Indianapolis. These gentlemen, representing the gold contingent in Indiana, communicated with the local gold men's committee, and the plan they proposed was readily adopted. Invitations were sent yesterday to the gold leaders in the states mentioned.

The merit of the plan of the Indians, from an anti-silver democratic standpoint, was seen at once by the leaders of the movement in Illinois, especially the idea of having the middle western states initiate the movement. The leaders in the east and far south are said to sympathize to the fullest extent in the scheme, but prefer for various reasons that the call should emanate from the middle western states. This they believe would prove more effectual in counteracting the advance of the silverites.

Concerning the conference and its probable action, Mr. Ewing said he felt assured that the decision would favor the calling of a national convention. The impression seemed to prevail also that the national gathering of the gold democrats would be held in this city.

Advices have been received which pledge the hearty support of many of the eastern party leaders and in some instances of the regular state organizations to the support of the new democratic cause. Ex-Gov. Thomas M. Waller of Connecticut and John De Witt Warner of New York are among the eastern men who are in full sympathy with the movement and believe it policy to begin operations in the western middle states and have the south and east follow suit. The local men said they had enough letters to justify the assertion that every state would be represented at a national gathering.

OMAHA HONORS BRYAN.

Big Public Demonstration—He Makes a Non-Partisan Speech.

Omaha, Neb., July 22.—The reception tendered William J. Bryan Tuesday reached the proportions of a popular demonstration. The train from Lincoln reached the depot at 7:45 o'clock. A multitude had gathered there above the station. Mr. Bryan was quickly ushered into a carriage in waiting, which made its way to the corner of 15th and Douglas streets, where a large platform had been built. This was bedecked with the national colors and festooned with bunting.

As Mr. Bryan stepped upon the table in front of him preparatory to his address it was the signal for tumultuous and prolonged applause. Rapt attention was given his utterances, which did not partake of a political address, the speaker evidently recognizing the non-partisan character of the demonstration.

At the close of his address Mr. Bryan was subjected to the hand-shaking ordeal, both hands being kept in diligent service for nearly two hours. Mr. Bryan will visit Council Bluffs today and return to Lincoln about 4 o'clock.

Call to the People's Party.

Springfield, Ill., July 22.—Chairman A. L. Maxwell of the people's party state central committee will issue the official call from his home at Flat Rock, Ill., for the state convention of that party. The convention will meet in the city of Springfield on the 12th day of August. The total number of delegates in the convention will be 95; necessary to a choice, 448. Chairman Maxwell, upon being asked as to the outlook for a full representation at the state convention, said: "The populists of Illinois cast 60,000 votes in 1894, an increase of more than 150 per cent. Everything points to a state convention more than twice as large as any we have yet held. As to candidates, I know of not one for a single office at this date."

The British Royal Wedding.

London, July 22.—Queen Victoria arrived at Paddington station from Windsor Castle at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. She will attend the wedding of Princess Maud of Wales, her granddaughter, and Prince Charles of Denmark, at Buckingham palace today. Immediately upon reaching the city her majesty was driven to Marlborough house.

TEN DROWNED IN A RAGING CREEK

Cloudburst Causes Loss of Life in Franklin County, Kentucky.

Louisville, Ky., July 22.—Ten lives were lost in a cloudburst on Benson Creek, in Franklin county, at 4 o'clock Tuesday morning. The creek became a torrent, which carried away several houses and their occupants. The dead: JAMES G. BRADLEY, MRS. EMMA T. BRADLEY, ELRO BRADLEY, aged 8 years, FLORA BRADLEY.

TWO INFANT CHILDREN of Mrs. Bradley. MRS. MOLLIE BRYANT, ELLISON BRYANT, aged 2 years, NORA BRYANT, aged 13 years, THOMAS MOSSIE, colored.

Mrs. Bryant kept a toll gate on the Frankfort pike just at the confluence of two branches of the stream. Near by lived James G. Bradley, with his wife and four children. Rain had fallen all night and the streams were already bank-full when the cloudburst came, the creek became a river and without warning the houses were washed away.

Down the creek great havoc was wrought. The steel bridge of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, spanning the creek, was lifted off its abutments. All wagon bridges of the several pikes crossing the stream were washed away, thus cutting off communication from all points of the country. It is feared the loss of life and property may have been greater than now supposed.

A tramp who was refused lodging by James Hewlett saved the lives of his family. He slept in the barn, and when the flood came he aroused the family just in time for them to get out safely. DONALDSON

Many people living in Benson Valley left their houses and waded out through the water, escaping a few minutes before the buildings were washed away.

The storm was not confined to Franklin, but the rainfall was also excessive in Jefferson, Shelby, Fayette and Woodford counties, and was general over the state. The three railroads between Louisville and Lexington—the Louisville & Nashville, the Southern and the Chesapeake & Ohio—were washed out. The Southern is able to transfer, but the others began to operate via Cincinnati. There is also a washout at Rowlett, on the main line of the Louisville & Nashville railroad.

No estimate of the damage can be made owing to lack of communication. In Louisville and environs the sewers were inadequate to carry off the water, and many cellars were flooded and houses undermined. The damage in Louisville and Jefferson county is estimated at $300,000. Losses to railroads and turnpike companies by falling bridges may reach $300,000, as several were of iron, and $100,000 would be a small estimate to put on the damage to farmers by loss of crops, buildings and farming implements.

BASEBALL REPORT.

Games Played in the National League Yesterday.

Every one of the seven games yesterday was hotly contested and desperately and honestly played. Cincinnati, after two hard struggles, took two games, and Cleveland, by remarkable work, twice whitewashed the Senators. The race is getting warmer each day, and it is the west which is slaughtering the visitors this year. Games played:

At Chicago—Chicago 1 0 2 0 2 0 2 0 *—7 Boston 0 1 0 0 2 0 0 0 0—3

New York Tailors Strike.

New York, July 22.—After several months of agitation, a strike of the various organizations constituting the Brotherhood of Tailors was declared Tuesday night. It will involve about 12,000 workmen in New York, Brooklyn and Brownsville. It is alleged by the tailors that wages have been cut 25 per cent and that they are compelled to work more than ten hours a day.

SILVER PARTY PLANS.

The Convention Likely to Be Called to Order by Senator Jones of Nevada.

St. Louis, Mo., July 22.—Senator Jones of Nevada probably will call to order the first national convention of the American silver party in the Music hall. Chairman J. J. Mott of the national committee is sick, and unless he feels in better bodily trim, he will ask the Nevada senator to do the first honors. The senator will have an easy task, for Congressman Newlands of Nevada has been selected as temporary chairman and he will deliver the first speech. W. P. St. John of New York will be permanent chairman. All of these details were officially arranged by the national committee, although the executive committee selected the temporary and permanent officers some days ago.

The silver men do not know how long their convention will last. The question came up in the national committee. I. U. Stevens of Colorado wanted the convention to endorse Bryan and Sewall, listen to a few free silver speeches and go home. Colonel Baker of California took another view of the matter. He said that a short and sweet convention would look like a mere ratification meeting, and he insisted that the silver men should hold a real, sure-enough convention, elect a permanent organization, elect a good national committee, adopt a platform, nominate Bryan and Sewall and then do all that silver men can do to help the populists out of the maze into which they have wandered. Rublee A. Cole of Wisconsin agreed with Colonel Baker, and so did several others. Mrs. Helen Gougar of Indiana was invited to speak to the silver men. She gave them a free silver talk and said Bryan was the best man in the country. The committee gave Chairman Mott authority to appoint a conference committee and to confer with a like committee from the populists in case anything which called for a conference came up.

General A. J. Warner, president of the National Bimetallist union, was one of the prominent silver men in the meeting. He spent most of the day doing missionary work for Bryan, and said that Bryan certainly would be nominated by the populists.

Senator Jones put in most of this afternoon and evening drawing up a platform for the silver men. There is a strong disposition to keep the platform down to one plank, and make that a declaration for free silver, but other delegates want the platform to be in the nature of an address to all silver men, urging them to bury party feeling and vote solidly for Bryan and Sewall.

TWELVE INJURED.

Bridge, Weakened by High Water, Lets a Passenger Car Into the Ditch.

Carbondale, Ill., July 22.—A disastrous railroad wreck occurred on the Chicago & Texas railroad about one mile south of Murphysboro Tuesday. A trestle over Big Muddy creek gave way, as the result of the recent rains, and one passenger coach was ditched. Twelve persons were injured, two of whom may die. The injured are:

Mrs. McClure, of McClure station, bruised; Andrew Childers of Murphysboro, bruised face and hand; Scott Hinchliffe of Carbondale, badly cut about the face; George Siebert of Bloomfield, Mo., jaw broken and injured internally in the breast; serious; Mrs. G. S. Drew, engineer's wife, going to her husband at Boston, Mass., with five children; collar bone broken and cut about the face; four of her children were hurt; R. H. Herman of Wittenberg, Mo.; cut on head and bruised on knee; George Quackenbos of Cape Girardeau; bruised on head and face; Frank Anderson, Grand Tower; nose broken; Drummer H. Werre of St. Louis; bruised.

SENATOR BUTLER.

In the convention will be for and against William J. Bryan, the democratic nominee for president, and at present there is every prospect of a bolt whichever way the tide of battle turns. The fight has narrowed down to Bryan and anti-Bryan, but the anti-Bryan men in the face of their name say they are not opposed to Bryan, but to the democratic party. The national committee was in session the greater part of the day, but no business transacted by that body served to show conclusively whether the Bryan or anti-Bryan people predominated.

The fight has become so fierce that it is now probable the convention will last at least three days, if it does not extend through the week. The opinions as to what the convention should do are divided to a large extent on geographical lines. The delegates from the northwestern portion of the country are in favor of the endorsement of Bryan and Sewall, even at the cost of the populist organization. The eastern delegates and some of the far western men believe that Bryan should be nominated and a populist candidate for vice-president named. The southern delegates with the exception of some scattering votes are still holding out against fusion with the democrats. They claim that it means their political death, and if the national convention sacrifices them the populist party will go to pieces.

Among many of the delegations from the middle states there is a disposition to allow the southern people's party men to control the convention. These argue that in such states as Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Missouri and Kentucky the party will live if the next election does not prove a victory for the people's party. They say that the fact that in most of the southern states gold men have been nominated for congress will place the people's party there under the necessity of working with the republicans. But the Bryan men still persist that these conditions should not be brought into the presidential fight.

Gov. Stone is one of those who thinks the public fails to see the importance of the people's party convention. He said that it will in all probability decide whether or not McKinley will be elected. If the populists nominate a straight ticket and place their own electors in the field he is positive that the Ohio man will have far the best chance to be the next president. If, on the other hand, Bryan receives an indorsement in the convention, he

"middle of the road" plan. A conference was held in the Texas headquarters of the Southern hotel, and not a man was admitted who was not known to be an anti-Bryan delegate. Then the roll was called to find out the anti-Bryan strength. The result of the poll was kept a profound secret, but it is known that delegates from the various states reported the following as the anti-Bryan strength in their respective delegations: Arkansas, 20; California, 39; Georgia, 61; Indiana, 30; Iowa, 15;

FAST PACER GOES ALL BY HIMSELF

HAPPY JACK'S MILE A WONDERFUL PERFORMANCE.

Made Quarters at a 2:05 Gait, and Rounded the Course in 2:13 1/4. The Fastest Mile Paced Yesterday—Favorites Are Beaten—Some Track Talk.

The prettiest exhibition of equine intelligence that Janesville people ever saw, was the mile paced by Happy Jack, the horse who goes without a harness, driver or sulky, at the Driving Park yesterday afternoon. The announcement that the trim built little pacer would be shown, drew a goodly audience and all were much pleased. Just before the last heat in the last race, the pacer was brought out. One of the grooms took hold of the bridle and ran a few yards with the pacer. Then he let the animal go, and as he passed the stand, starting Judge McElroy called "go." At the word Happy Jack "let out an extra link," and got down to business. Around the upper turn he sped, hugging the pole and pacing like a machine. A hundred watches were ticking off the seconds as he sped along, and a chorus of "ups" announced his arrival at the quarter pole. The time was 31 1/2 seconds—a 2:05 gait.

Was a "Handy Breaker." On the back stretch the pacer hugged the pole so close that he stepped in the grass, throwing him off his stride. Three skips was all that marked the break, however, and no driver on earth could have caused the pacer to catch his gait again any quicker than he did it himself. The break was neither a winning or a losing one, and as the crowd murmured its approbation, the little wonder sped to the half mile pole.

"One four and three-quarters," said the times in the judges' stand as the nose of the pacer appeared between the whitewashed pole and the guide board on the fence across the track—a 2:09 1/2 gait. From the half to the three-quarter pole, around the lower turn, the pacer traveled like a piece of machinery, hugging the pole, and "leaning in" like a bicycle rider. His time to the three-quarter pole was 1:38, and his owner was at the distance stand to send him home.

"Hi-hi!" he called as the pacer passed him, and Jack buckled down to the finish, flashing under the wire in 2:13 1/4—the last quarter in 35 1/2 seconds.

Showed Up at the Call. A burst of applause greeted the pacer as he sped under the wire, and the call bell was sounded. As the note reached his ears, the intelligent little animal gradually slowed up, and just before the turn was reached thrust his nose into the hands of the trainer who was waiting for him. The woolen blanket was quickly thrown over his back and the pacer led back amid enthusiastic applause. When the time—which was faster than was made in any of the races—was announced there was another outbreak of applause. Had Happy Jack had a driver behind him to "rate the mile," he would have turned the course in 2:10, or perhaps faster yet, as the last quarter was four seconds slower than the first one.

If Jack is sent again, the grand stand will be packed, as the exhibition was the most novel and interesting that Janesville people ever saw. The management, it is said, will try to secure him for a second appearance.

Yesterday was no day for favorites. Lee Ward, who brought two to one in the 2:16 class pacing race, was drawn after losing two heats, he being afflicted with "the humps."

Tribby P., the choice in the 2:24 trotting race, only got third money, but M. E. McHenry's Rose Croix won the colt race—as she was expected to.

Some Gossip From the Track. PARCEVAL, who started in the 2:24 class trotting race was a remarkably handsome horse. He is but a colt and was competing against aged horses, so his owner, S. H. Newman drew him after the third heat, seeing that he had no show to win any of the money. The horse was much admired for his beauty and honest gait.

DELTA, the fleet mare who won second money in the 2:16 pacing race is owned at Fargo, N. D. Her owner is a friend of Fred F. Putnam and Mr. Putnam, who was visiting here, wired her owner of her success.

The telephone put in the judges' stand, by The Gazette, makes it possible to get the results of heats up to the moment of going to press. The use of the instrument is also fully appreciated by the horsemen.

MURRAY HOWE, of The Horse Review, the excellent Chicago trotting publication, is on hand with his kodak. He is also corresponding for several other papers.

JOHN KELLY won first money with Directum Kelly at Detroit yesterday. Vallean his 2:09 class pacer got fourth money in his race.

MANAGER CARPENTER of the Western Union office, is kept busy with press reports and the extra business of the horsemen.

HINBERT WILKES will race in the 2:15 pacing class at Ottawa, Ill., today.

"THE Fullers" won two firsts and one second money yesterday.

THE "ACCOMMODATION" ENGINE HAS AN ACCIDENT.

Train Was Brought to a Stop with a Jerk Near Shopiere, Last Night, and Passengers Had a Scare—Were Five Hours in Reaching Janesville.

Janesville passengers on the C. & N. W. "Accommodation" had a scare last night.

When near Shopiere station, they felt the train stop with a jerk that threw people forward in the seats.

Heads were hurriedly poked out of the windows, and for a moment there was considerable excitement. It was soon learned, however, that the sudden stop was due to the breaking of an eccentric on the engine. A brakeman was sent back with a red lantern, to flag the "vestibule" which was buzzing along at the rate of fifty miles an hour between Sharon and Clinton.

Engineer Crowley—whose considerable of a machinist hims lf—then set about to fix the break, and pulled into Shopiere station "working one side." The train could not be gotten any farther, however, so the other brakeman was sent back with a second red light, to again flag "the limited." When the latter train reached Shopiere, it pushed the accommodation onto the side track, and proceeded to Janesville but a few minutes late.

Engine Finally Fixed.

Thus Engineer Crowley was left to his own resources. Half a dozen times he tried to start the train with the disabled locomotive, but it would move two or three feet and then come to a stop. At length, however, he succeeded in backing out onto the main line, and pulled into Janesville about ten o'clock.

"We were five hours in getting from Chicago to Janesville," said one of the passengers on the train. "When the train came to so sudden a stop, there was all kinds of speculation among the passengers, until the nature of the accident was learned. The brakeman who was sent back with the red light, had two duties to perform—to see that the broken eccentric had not fallen on the rail in such a way as to cause an accident to the limited, and to flag that train. He found the pieces of steel two miles back, he said, and the limited brought him to Shopiere. The limited did not waste any time helping us. The engineer simply rushed us onto the side track, and then began to make up lost time."

HOT WEATHER DYSPEPSIA.

Thousands Suffer From It at This Season of the Year.

Hot weather dyspepsia may be recognized by the following symptoms: Depression of spirits, heaviness and pain in the stomach after meals, loss of flesh and appetite, no desire for food, bad taste in the mouth, especially in the morning, wind in stomach and bowels, irritable disposition, nervous weakness, weariness, costiveness, headache, palpitation, heartburn. It is a mistake to treat such troubles with "tonics," "blood purifiers," "cathartics" or "pills," because the whole trouble is in the stomach. It is indigestion or dyspepsia and nothing else.

All these symptoms rapidly disappear when the stomach is relieved, strengthened, and cleansed by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. They should be taken after meals and a few carried in the pocket to be used whenever any pain or distress is felt in the stomach. They are prepared only for stomach troubles. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are endorsed by such physicians as Dr. Harlandson, Dr. Jennison, and Dr. Mayer, because they contain the natural digestive acids and fruit essences which when taken into the stomach cause the prompt digestion of the food before it has time to ferment and sour, which is the cause of the mischief.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are pleasant to take and unequalled for invalids, children and every person afflicted with imperfect digestion. It is safe to say they will cure any form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

Nearly all the druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, full sized packages at 50 cents. A book on stomach troubles and thousands of testimonials sent free by addressing Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

COMPULSORY INSURANCE.

The Swiss Federal Council Desires to Enforce It.

The Swiss federal council is submitting to the two chambers a scheme for compulsory insurance against accidents and sickness, says the London Times. It is based upon the previous project of M. Forrer, deputy for Winterthur. According to the scheme all Swiss inhabitants whose earnings do not exceed 120 pounds per annum will be obliged to insure. The Caisse Libre, private insurance societies due to individual initiative in each calling, will be allowed to exist by the side of the national insurance, and members may fulfill their obligation by belonging to the former. The liberty is, however, limited by the condition that the private benefit societies shall secure to their members the same advantages as the public insurance, that they shall not interfere with the workings of the latter or involve serious inconvenience to the employer who pays part of the contribution. These conditions being granted, the Caisse Libre will have a right to the same state subsidy as the public fund. The state contribution to the scheme is reckoned at 7,333,000 francs, and it is proposed to meet the outlay by a tobacco monopoly or a tax on cereals or sugar. The employer contributes 52 per cent, the employee 26 per cent and the state 22 per cent. A tobacco monopoly would, it is reckoned, produce 6,500,000 francs. The whole question must be submitted to the national referendum and accepted before becoming law. A plebiscite on this question would be one of the most important yet taken in Switzerland.

$500 Worth of Ducks at a Shot.

A writer for the American Field tells of a shot made from a big gun "which was fastened to the boat as all big guns are," and which was loaded with two pounds and a half of shot. The shooter approached within shooting distance of a hole in the ice of the Potomac river, gave a shout, and, as the ducks arose, fired. "I do not remember," the account continues, "what number he got, but he was shooting cripples for hours, and he sold the result of his shot for $500." What is more, "this shot may seem wonderful to some, but many a large shot have been made on the Potomac with big guns."

Only a few weeks ago this same writer was wondering where the ducks had gone. It is to this region of big shots that President Cleveland goes, and there he has a blind before which his ducks are lined up to be killed by raking, sitting shots, if this writer is to be believed.

The big guns are the punt guns for flock shooting, which are much in favor with English shooters.

The Mikado's Ancestors.

In the matter of ancestors the Mikado of Japan can entirely discount all other sovereigns. The present Mikado is the 122d of his line, and members of his family have occupied the throne of Japan for the last 2,500 years. The founder of this dynasty was contemporary with Nebuchadnezzar, 600 B. C. Of the seven great religions enumerated by Max Muller, as possessing Bibles the Mikado's family is older than five.

BUT ONE WAY.

The attitude sound money democrats must assume if they support Bryan is set forth very plainly in a catechism printed elsewhere today. Such weakminded democrats are not the only ones, however, who endanger the sound money cause. The men who wish sincerely to put free silver free riots and the rest of the populist programme out of the way defeat their own ends by keeping up the cry for a third ticket. Senator Jones, of Arkansas, chairman of the Bryan national committee gave a valuable suggestion to honest money democrats when asked:

"Do you fear the placing of an independent gold democratic ticket in the field?"

"Not in the least," answered Senator Jones. "Why should we? It will not carry any state, and the only votes it will get will be of those democrats who would otherwise vote for McKinley or else go fishing."

Senator Jones is a shrewd politician. He knows perfectly well that a third ticket would be a mere soap bubble. He will not lose any sleep over an independent democratic ticket. It is the democrats who vote for McKinley who will be dangerous to the repudiation ticket.

There is no difference between voting for the repudiation ticket and giving it a chance to win by refusing to strengthen the only adversary that can beat it. It may be disagreeable to some democrats to vote for McKinley. The triumph of Bryan and the revolutionary program would be a good deal more than disagreeable. It would be ruinous and disgraceful.

It is not to be supposed that Sewall, in his capacity as president in a national bank, can give a very hearty endorsement to that part of the Chicago platform which denounces the issue of notes as money from such institutions as "in derogation of the constitution."

There has been a slight interruption in the flood of Bryan speeches, which is probably a good thing. In the six days ending Saturday, July 18, he made an even dozen speeches or, rather, he made the same speech a dozen times.

Bryan's proposition—sixteen parts talk and one part sense—is disgusting readers of his speeches.

No wonder democrats prefer McKinley to such leadership as that of Altgeld and Tillman.

BITS OF STATE POLITICS

The Eighth district will be very nearly solid for Scofield, and the Ninth district absolutely a unit, the Marinette Eagle declares.

The Racine News (populist) wants Bragg and Vilas to jump in the lake on a dark night.

EAU CLAIRE county will send a Bradford delegation.

MILWAUKEE county will be split but Elliott expects to get a big majority.

DUNN county instructed delegates for LaFollette.

MADISON and Stoughton chose LaFollette delegates.

MANITOWOC republicans declare that Baensch is the strongest republican mentioned for the governorship.

KEWAUNEE county names Scofield delegates.

SENATOR J. M. THURSTON will address the big Milwaukee mass meeting on the night of the state convention. William Mason, of Chicago, or Senator Burrows, of Michigan, also will speak.

"I AM A DEMOCRAT," HE SAID. Catechism That Is of Interest to More Than One Janesville Politician.

He was a sound-money democratic editor, who had consumed hundreds of pens, quarts of ink, and reams of paper in denouncing all the principles advocated by the Chicago convention and its candidates, but who had hoisted the banner of Bryan and Sewall. An inquiring stranger entered the sanctum in search of information and received the following answers to his questions:

Q. Why do you support Bryan and Sewall? A. Because they were nominated by the democratic national convention.

Q. What has that to do with it? A. I am a democrat.

Q. What is a democrat? A. A member of the democratic party.

Q. What is the democratic party? A. It is the party that favors the principles of democracy.

Q. What are the principles of democracy? A. They are the principles favored by the democratic party.

Q. Can you define some of them? A. They are handed down to us by Jefferson and Jackson.

Q. What did Jefferson and Jackson believe in? A. They believed in the democratic party.

Q. Is William Jennings Bryan a representative of the doctrines of Jefferson and Jackson? A. No.

Q. Then why do you call him a democrat? A. Because he is the regular nominee of the democratic national convention.

Q. Was that convention controlled by democrats? A. No.

Q. By whom was it controlled? By populists and anarchists.

Q. Do you subscribe to the free silver declarations of the platform? A. No.

Q. Do you subscribe to any of the principles there promulgated? A. Hardly any.

Q. Does the platform represent the views of Mr. Bryan? A. Yes.

Q. But not the views of the democratic party? A. No.

Q. And yet you support the candidate and the platform? A. Yes.

Q. Am I right in inferring that you are working for principles and policies, which you believe to be wrong? A. You are perfectly right.

Q. Why do you do it? A. Because I am a democrat.

Q. How can you reconcile your democracy with the support of un-democratic doctrines? A. I don't try.

Q. Would the election of Bryan and the triumph of his principles be a good thing for the country? A. On the contrary a very bad thing.

Q. In what way? A. In every way.

Q. From what standpoint do you justify the advocacy of men and measures that are bad for the country? A. From the standpoint of my democracy.

Q. What is the mission of democracy? A. To stand by the democratic party.

Q. Is there no higher duty to be considered? A. None.

Q. Are all democrats of that opinion? A. No; many of them place principle above party.

Q. How? A. By temporarily leaving the party when it forsakes democratic principles.

Q. But that is not your way? A. No; I am not a democrat.

Q. What is the best way for a democrat to show his democracy? A. By voting the democratic ticket.

Q. Even when it is democratic in nothing but name? A. That has nothing to do with the case.

Q. Does the democratic party stand for anything good? A. Not this year.

Q. Is its candidate a wise statesman? A. No; he is a boy ora or an irresponsible crank.

Q. Then why do you not repudiate him? A. Because I am a democrat.

Q. What is the chief end of a democrat? A. To stand by the democratic party.

Q. No matter what lunatics may be temporarily injected into the party's doctrine and programme? A. That is of no consequence.

Q. Then you are a democrat simply because you are a democrat? A. That is the only reason.

Q. Without any reference to the meaning of the term? A. Not the slightest.

Q. Pardon me, but do you expect as a reasonable and intelligent man to regard your answers to my questions as satisfactory and convincing? A. Certainly not; they are not satisfactory to myself. Please go away now. I am tired.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

We have 3,000 yards of unbleached muslin that have sold all the season for 20 cents a yard, 9½ width that we will sell for a few days for 11½ cents. Think of it, you are enabled to buy a sheet 2½ yards wide and 2½ yards long for 29 cents. THE NEW WOMAN.

Promises Papa to Take Good Care of Willie.

He sat before the mirror in his room, nervously brushing his raven black hair into various shapes, while expectation gleamed in his dark-blue eyes, which ever and anon sought the clock nervously, says an exchange.

"Seven forty-five," he said, with a pout. "Well, she is certainly taking her time. I wonder if she thinks the play begins at midnight. I declare, if I dared, I'd go alone."

A ring at the front door and he sprang up in a flutter.

"There she is!" he cried, and with a glad little cry he darted down the stairs and was in the arms of a tall, handsome young girl, who wore an Inverness cape and a derby hat.

"You've been smoking again, Clara," he said, with a little shiver, "and after you promised papa, too."

"Oh, bother papa! Hurry up and get your coat on."

But papa was not to be bothered. He came out of the back parlor and advanced toward them with an angry air.

"Theater again, Miss Jones?" he queried. "Don't you think this is a little too rapidly? It's the third performance in a week that you've taken Willie to."

"Oh, I like it, papa; indeed, I do."

"I dare say you do, but you know little of the world. Is this a ballet play you're taking my son to?"

Miss Jones laughed.

"Oh, dear, no!" she replied. "They are too slow. We're going to see the new living pictures."

"I saw those! I saw those!" broke in the old man, "and no innocent boy of mine shall ever go. Venus and Hebe, and all the rest of 'em—"

"No! No! They're behind the age. These are Samson, Apollo, Mars, and Jupiter, by the handsomest leading men in the country."

"Oh, that's different! Wrap up well, Willie, and be home by 11. Don't invite him in to eat or drink anything, please, Miss Jones; we had an awful time with him the other night."

"All right! Come along, Willie! Take my arm."

And they were gone.

MAY STAY AT CANTON.

Campaign Plans of McKinley—Will Not Make Many Speeches.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 22.—Major McKinley talked briefly about his plans of conducting the campaign. "The outlook is promising," he said. "Through the heat of the campaign I will pass the time quietly with my wife in our home in Canton. I do not expect to make many speeches from now on. There are a few addresses that have been promised, but outside of these I will only speak informally on occasions when it is necessary."

Awful Deed of a Crazy Man.

Dryden, Mich., July 22.—George Swain, a farmer about 45 years old, who lived near here, killed his three small children, set fire to his house, and then blew out his own brains this morning. His wife died a short time ago, and it is thought that this deranged his mind.

Western Gold League Formed.

Everett, Wash., July 22.—The republican convention of Washington, held at Everett May 14, adopted rigid resolutions for the maintenance of the present gold standard. There has been formed a nonpartisan gold standard league, the first in the United States.

No Agreement on Platform.

St. Louis, July 22.—While there are many platforms floating about, there appears to be comparatively little crystallization of populist ideas. It is generally conceded, however, that the lines of the Omaha platform will be closely followed, and the money, transportation and bond questions will receive chief attention. The convention will demand that the government shall control the railroads, that silver shall be coined free and in quantities limited only by the supply, that the government shall issue a sufficient supply of paper money to supply the demands of business, and that the national banks shall be abolished. It is believed that the subtreasury scheme will be dropped.

Ex-Gov. Peck Is for Silver.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 22.—Secretary Noel of the democratic state central committee has announced in behalf of the chairman, ex-Gov. Peck, that Mr. Peck was now for silver and would do all in his power to secure the election of the Bryan electors in this state. The state convention elects the chairman of the state central committee, and Peck is merely serving out the unexpired term of E. C. Wall, who resigned on account of poor health. It is very probable that the convention, if it is overwhelmingly for silver, will decide to put some one in to run the campaign who is not quite so recent in his conversion to the silver cause.

In Memory of Robert Burns.

London, July 22.—At Dumfries, Scotland, Tuesday the 100th anniversary of the death of Robert Burns was celebrated in an international way. The town was profusely decorated and the anniversary was observed as generally by the inhabitants of the place where Burns died as by the representatives of the Scottish societies of Great Britain and the United States who went thither for the purpose.

The full intensity of living is reached only by the perfectly healthy. Sickness discounts the capacity for enjoyment. If his body is all out of order and run down, he will not be able to enjoy anything, no matter how full of enjoyment it may be for other people. If he is just a little bit out of order, if he "is not sick," but doesn't feel just right" he will only be able to enjoy things in a half-hearted sort of way. The nearer he is to being perfectly well, the nearer will his capacity for enjoyment be perfect. If this condition doesn't exist, something ought to be done. That means nine cases in ten the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It works directly on the digestive organs, and on the blood and through these on every tissue of the body. It makes the appetite good, digestion and nutrition perfect and supplies rich, red blood to all the tissues, building up solid, healthful flesh.

FAST MILES MADE IN THE 2:20 RACE

RUSIE CLAY WINS IN STRAIGHT HEATS.

Ringling Bells Takes Second Money and Mambrino Field Third—Last Mile Paced in 2:12 1-2—Excel Goes to the Front in the 2:50 Trot—Tomorrow's Programme.

The trotters and pacers competed for their purses at the Janesville track this afternoon.

They were worth $600 each—and that was a dollar or two more than some of the horsemen had in their hip pockets. Accordingly, they all wanted to win, and whips were not spared in consequence. The attendance was larger today than yesterday, and the clouds of dust were not so thick. Two sprinklers kept the track wet down, and both man and beast were more comfortable in consequence.

Eight horses were named on the score card for the first race—the 2:50 trotting class. They were Excel, a black mare driven by Richard Curtis, Echolas, a bay mare by Phalaris; Lone Star State, a bay horse from Dallas, Texas; Alvina, a nut breaker mare entered by Rhody Patterson; Brown Bess, a bay mare by Young Jim; Norvaline, a representative of Norval's extensive family; Metropole, a brown son of Mambrino, and Helen, the bay daughter of Blueode, who has raced here before.

The second race was for 2:20 class pacers, and the starters named on the score card were fourteen in number. They were Rusie Clay, Edwin C. Mambrino Field, Ben Allie, Trumpetone, Josie Ray, Prince Roland, Bar-me-Not, Ringling Bells, Minnehaha, Echo, Johnnie B., Tom Powers, and Fencer.

The third race was for 2:50 class pacers, and eight horses were named to start. They were: Day Hal, Combat, George W. Majada, Stella Watson, Sidwena, Longmont and Waterloo Maid.

Result of the Contests.

When starting, Judge McElroy called them out, and some of the horses had been drawn. The results of the contests, up to 4:30 o'clock, were as follows:

SEWERS SHOULD BE EXTENDED

Distressing Odor Might Be Done Away With Very Easily, It Is Said

A cheap remedy for the distressing odor from private sewers is said to be an extra twenty feet of pipe or the end of each sewer. This would carry the sewerage below low water mark in the river instead of leaving it to dry up in the sun. The river is so low that extensions could be put on the sewers very easily, especially on unday when the mills are idle and a water is kept back. Unless something of the sort is done there is likely to be considerable sickness the doctors

RAILROAD MEN MUST LEAVE MAIL ALONE

STRICT ORDERS SENT OUT ON THE C. M. & ST. P.

Mail and Advertising Matter for Agents of Other Roads Cannot Be Carried in Baggage Cars, But Must Go Under Postal Regulations and Charges.

Milwaukee & St. Paul employees have been notified that the company cannot carry any more deadhead mail matter for other railroads, nor private communications between employees of the St. Paul system.

Most of the employees of the road knew that the circular letter was forthcoming, and as a matter of fact General Superintendent Carriek of the baggage department has not accepted any railroad mail from other roads for several weeks. The president's order is a direct result of a notice given by the post office department at Washington that the railroads, in carrying mail from one another and for their employees, were disobeying the law.

Makes a Big Difference

It is difficult for people not in the railroad business to understand the vast effect of the notice of the post office department. On the St. Paul system alone the carrying of tons of foreign railroad mail to and from freight and passenger agents of other roads is stopped, and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul company will find its expense account for postage on advertising matter and mail to its agents in cities not reached by the road increased many times over. It is estimated today that the additional expense entailed by the new application of the postage laws to the St. Paul system would be not less than $500 a month.

The practice of one road's carrying business mail for one another is almost as old as railroading.

EUGENE T. FISH,

KEPT FROM SUICIDE BY HER HUSBAND

DRAGGED FROM THE RIVER BANK AT NIGHT.

Jealous Wife Rushes Up the Postoffice Alley, Pursued by Her Husband, and Tries To End Her Troubles by Jumping Off the Mill Platform.

She preferred the muddy bottom of Rock river to a cool seat in the Court House park.

Why?

She didn't say.

All anybody knew was that she ran up the post office alley, close behind her was a man in a brown crash suit.

C. W. Dailey was the only one who saw them.

He sat beside the J. B. Green mill when the two rushed past. They went as far as the platform by the Shackleton mill. Then the woman turned and jumped.

By this time Mr. Dailey realized that things were not right. He ran, but the other man was nearer and had clutched the woman by one arm. She was at the water's edge.

"Come out of that," he said angrily. "Don't make a fool of yourself."

Jealous of Other Women.

"I don't want to live. I'm going to drown myself, and you can't stop me," she burst out amid sobs. "You pay more attention to any girl you happen to meet than you do to me, and I won't stand it."

"Oh, yes you will," said the man curtly. "You will do just as I say. And I want to tell you I intend to go with any girl I choose. You ought to know better than to make a show like this."

There was a five minute interchange of peppery compliments and the two disappeared up the alley toward the special car that shelters the Wood-Jersey Company.

Mr. Dailey says the woman seemed to have the idea of suicide very firmly in her mind and that the two were quieted only by his threats to call the police.

NEW SKIRTS.

The "Pull Back" Threatened Again—How to Avoid Gaps.

Fashion has seldom been less absolute than at present, and never was greater latitude allowed in the matter of skirts. Of course they all approximate to the same model—they flare at the foot and are close at the hips. The newest styles have godets at the back only, but nevertheless those having godets all around are still worn by fashionable women who prefer them. As long as the circumference is maintained at about five yards, fancy may be indulged to the utmost.

It looks now as if skirts would slowly shrink to the eelskin style again without an intermediate season of the old-fashioned full skirt, which at one time seemed on the point of being revived. Of all ample skirts the full one is the most artistic and becoming. If it is not stiffened, as our grandmothers' were not, it falls in beautiful folds, and the fullness springing out about the hips makes the waist appear very slender.

The fullness at the back of the latest skirts is not laid in plaits, but is gathered into very narrow compass, perhaps an inch and a half or two inches on each side of the back opening. The back opening itself, which is always treacherous even with the most careful arrangement of small hooks and loops to keep it closed, can be avoided by leaving open the top of the left hand seam that joins the side breadth to the back breadth. This is far less likely to gape. Better yet, if there is any trimming, or if there are revers or straps at the top of the tablier seams, the opening of the skirt may be in front, concealed by the decoration. In this latter case the wearer is quite easy minded and has no fear of an expose of white petticoat—an annoyance only second to the slipping down of the waistband.

A picture is given of a summer costume for a young girl. It is of linen, having an openwork embroidery pattern, and is made over pink silk. The godet skirt is untrimmed. The bodice is open in front over a full chemisette of pink silk. Large revers of pink silk are turned back over platings of pink silk gauze. The full sleeves reach to the elbow. The belt is of pink silk.

SKIRTS AND BOOTS.

Black Stockings and Shoes—Something About the Fit.

Foulard is again to the fore and is being much worn in Paris. Other materials in favor there are cambric, canvas, lawn, taffeta, mousseline de soie and satin, Louis Quinze and Louis Seize styles prevailing.

It is scarcely necessary to remark that neat boots and shoes are a prominent feature of the costume now that skirts are growing shorter. Footwear must always be neat and pretty, no matter how long the gown may be, but defects are particularly evident when there is a brevity of drape about the feet. Black stockings remain the most appropriate as long as black shoes are worn, and even with tan ones they are desirable. As for the shoes themselves, it is always better economy to buy really good ones. They fit better, look better, are made better and wear better than cheap ones. The latter are stiff, clumsy and usually possess that most abominable trait in a shoe, a squeak. It is also well to remember that well dressed women never wear a really tight shoe. It may—nay, it must—fit perfectly about the heel, instep and ankle, but it is ample in length and in width. There is no part of a vulgar woman's toilet that bears the stamp of vulgarity more plainly than her shoes, for even if she buys expensive ones she is sure to get them so small that when they are on they seem full to bursting, and the buttons are strained to their last thread. Practically the foot appears larger in a tight shoe than in a reasonably loose one, for in the latter case the foot shapes the shoe, while in the former the shoe cramps and distorts the foot, causing it to swell and look deformed.

A picture is given of a summer gown of gray changeable taffeta with a design in deeper gray and pink. The plain skirt has godets at the back. The bodice is close fitting and has a chemisette of white silk gauze. The tight sleeve is bouffant at the top and has an epaulet formed of three coques. The Louis Quinze cravat of white embroidered gauze has a fall of white lace, which is extended down each side of the chemisette in coquilles.
